MOON SUCCEEDS MEYLER AS CLUB PREXY

At the regular monthly Board of Directors meeting on Feb. 11 Joe Moon was unanimously elected club president to fill the unexpired term of Bob Meyler who resigned because of the press of personal business.

Moon, who has given unstintingly of his time and talents since the early days of Shadow Mountain Park, Inc., will serve until the annual stockholders meeting in April. Vice Presidents Tom Brown and Ned Blades and Secretary Treasurer Lou Keightley round out the officers roster.

Meyler, whose engineering experience has proven extremely valuable in the Unit No. 1 subdivision development was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors.

FASHION SHOW LUNCHEON

As it has in the past, the Palm Desert Women's Club annual fashion show and luncheon held in the Club dining room on Feb. 17, drew a capacity crowd of over three hundred of the fair sex.

This year's affair was a charity event with the proceeds going to the new Palm Desert Library fund and the Twin Pines Ranch for Boys. Co-chairmen Mrs. Robert Morrey and Mrs. Adrian Schilck did a grand job of heading up the entire proceedings, ably assisted by Francis Hodgeman and Edna Value in charge of the models and Mrs. Wilbur Bear, decorations chairman.

Nearly all the models were local members of the Women's club, Kay Malone, Juanita Bosworth, Sarah Harrison, Kitty Pritzlaff, Juanita Paul, Karen Allbough and Dottie Blades. Fashions were furnished by Mrs. Isabel Belyea of the Clotheshorse shop who handled the commentating and donated the grand prize, a breathtakingly beautiful Galanos gown. Lucky winner of this creation was Mrs. L. J. Hoy of Milwaukee, Wisconsin a guest of the Joe Moon's.

Other door prize winners included Mrs. Ralph Parker of Portland, Oregon, Mrs. Frank Metzendorf house guest from Chicago, Ill, of the Tom Browns, Dr. Minnie Burdon of Palm Desert and Mrs. Jack Wagner and Mrs. Tom Carter of Indio.

HOLE-IN-ONE OF THE MONTH CLUB

It had to happen to our links layout the way it happens to all golf courses. Inevitably the little white pill flies unerringly from tee to green and rolls sweetly into the waiting cup. Golf's top thrill on the new Shadow Mountain course came first to Dr. E. C. Ruge during January. Using his seven iron on the 115 yard par three 4th hole, Doc got his ace and through the pro shop received the many gifts and knick knacks that various companies award hole in one accomplishments.

The February perfection shot came from the swing of Henry LaForgue of Palm Springs whose score card proudly displayed a big 1 on hole number 2.

ORCHID DEPARTMENT

A good old "WELL DONE" to Ernie Boudreau, Don Hughes, Frank Constant and ALL the staff at Shadow Mountain Club who did such a terrific job in handling the big Invitational Tennis Tournament. Handling fifteen hundred to two thousand people is no picnic, but everything flowed along with the precision of a General Motors assembly line.

Another Orchid to Gene Roberts, chairman of the tennis committee, whose organizational flair set up the entire tournament on short notice so that it clicked beautifully. His committee members, Dottie Wenck, Milt Page, and Vini Rurac worked untiringly to assure the smooth operation and success of this venture.

Top figures of the athletic world lineup for a snapshot during the 4th Annual Invitational Tennis Tournament. TENNIS TOURNEY ATTRACTS NATION'S TOP STARS

TERRIFIC — STUPENDOUS — COLOSSAL — AMAZING. We're not shilling for a Hollywood epic — merely repeating words heard constantly throughout the three days of the recently completed 4th Annual Shadow Mountain Invitational Tennis Tournament.

For the first time in the brief existence of our tournament, sanction and approval was given by the Southern California Lawn Tennis Association. With Perry T. Jones, Mr. Tennis of Southern California, handling the entry lists, a veritable Who's Who of United States Tennis made the trek to the desert sunshine. Art Larsen, 3rd ranked in singles nationally, and his partner Tom Brown flew in from San Francisco. Herb Flam from the wilds of Beverly Hills, Gil Shea from L.A., petite and ambidextrous Beverly Baker Fleitz and National Junior Girl's champion Barbara Breit led a contingent of such national importance that two Los Angeles newspapers sent sports writers to cover day by day progress of the event.

To the surprise of practically no one who had watched her play Bev Fleitz blasted her way to the women's singles title in the final match against Barbara Breit. Amazing to see the way this petite A-Bomb of the Tennis court belts the ball with either hand. And to the surprise of nearly everyone, third seeded Gil Shea copped the Men's singles title from Herb Flam after surprising with a straight set win over first seeded Art Larsen in a semi-final match on Saturday. Shea, at the top of his game, left Sunday with several other players for New York and the National Indoor championships. Watch the sports pages for this boy. You'll be hearing more.

Smooth teamwork and sound strategy enabled the popular men's doubles combination of Bill Crosby and Bob Perez to snare the men's double's prize from the veteran team of Art Larsen and Tom Brown. This match played late Sunday afternoon provided the greatest number of thrills per minute of any contest of the four days.

Beverly Fleitz teamed with husband Johnny to win the mixed doubles title from another married duo, Gracyn and Bob Kelleher.

From left, Vini Rurac, Shadow Mountain Tennis Pro, Gil Shea, Perry Jones, and Herb Flam. This is the first year that our tournament had the sanction of Southern California Tennis Association of which Mr. Jones is Chairman.

Wes Hammond, swim coach at Los Angeles Athletic Club, brought his troupe of divers and water ballet performers down from the city on Sunday afternoon to provide the top water show of the season during an intermission in the Tennis finals. This show was extremely popular with small fry and grown-up alike, with the climaxing clown diving of Gary Tobian bringing forth the biggest cheers. We still think his "rigor mortis half twist" is about the funniest we've ever witnessed.

Plans are already underway to make this outstanding event a permanent part of our yearly calendar.

By LOU KUEHNER

March is about to blow in and believe me, there's a lot in the wind for this month — 'recreationally - wise.' Three brand new Club activities are starting this month. The Ladies Slim and Trim Club, The Tumble Bugs and the Aqua Ducks.

Slim and Trim Club

Starting March 7, this group will meet every Monday and Thursday at 9:30 a.m. for the next 8 weeks. The 16 class sessions will be devoted to Calisthenics, modern dance exercises and low-organized team sports. This is not necessarily a reducing class. It is designed to keep the ladies in shape — whatever shape they desire. However, upon request, special exercise and diet information will be given out to those wishing it. There will be a charge of $20.00 for the entire 8 weeks (16 sessions) which will be payable in advance.

Tumble Bugs

A renovation of last year's tumbling class for children of all ages. It will run for 8 Mondays, starting on March 7 at 4:30 p.m. There will be no charge to belong to the Tumble Bugs; however, each boy or girl is asked to register for membership in the Club. The various stunts and activities are being planned so that there is progression each week, finally culminating in a demonstration.

Aqua Ducks

This swim group will start slowly in March because of uncertain weather. The only requirements for the club will be on an individual basis. Each member must keep a progression chart weekly of his or her swimming skills. A series of tests will be available at all times and posted. One of the tests will be to see who can rack-up laps during the season.

The March Recreation Calendar will be a busy one and for that reason, we are devoting a bulletin board (attached to the life-guard's stand) to it. Here's a preview of the March Calendar.

March 12 and March 26.

Still the most popular event on the Club Social Calendar, Coronation night continues to attract a full house each Monday night. Here Dorothy Dudley sits in the Queen's chair as Walter O'Keefe holds forth at the microphone.

Ship wreck parties always attract the ingenious costumes. At the January 28 event, Milt and Betty Page received first prize for the most gruesome get-up. Here they are complete with war paint, skulls and shrunken heads.

Two more M.C.'s at a recent Coronation Night affair. Brian Donlevy, left and the ever popular Frank Bogert, El Mirador Hotel manager.

BUSY FEBRUARY FOR WOMEN GOLFERS

The new golf course is alive with the gentler sex each Monday morning. That of course is "Ladies Golf Day" at Shadow Mountain. In the continuing tournament now in progress, top honors for the week of Feb. 14 went to Fran Berry and Dorothy Pierson, who copped prizes of new golf balls.

The work of handicapping, always a pretty thankless job, has been handled by Mary Caplinger this year and she's doing a swell job of it according to her fellow golfers.

On the first Monday of each month the girls gather in the Club dining room after the morning session for luncheon and an afternoon of bridge and Canasta. Attendance at these affairs has been steadily increasing. They present an excellent opportunity for the many new faces to get acquainted with their fellow sun worshippers.

If you are not now playing come on out and join the group. It's lots of fun.

Late bulletin on the Women's Golf Tourney. First flight honors to Minneapolis flash, Betty Ives, Verna Farrington, 2nd flight winner and Alice Bridgewater tops in flight 3.

Just to add to the fun the second flight final ended in a tie with a sudden death playoff between Verna Farrington and Velma Blades. Cliff Ives and June Goodwin caddied for the finalists with quite a gallery trailing along. Verna sewed up the decision on the second extra hole with a 20 foot putt for her par as Velma slipped to a bogey 4.

As a Valentine's day gesture, Mrs. Nichols provided a large box of candy for the players. "Watch your calories girls."

NEW FIRMS IN PALM DESERT

Alice Caine Parry, formerly club accounting manager, has opened offices in the Patio Shops opposite the Palm Desert Post Office. A licensed Public Accountant, Alice has been in the accounting and tax business in the desert area for the past ten years with the exception of the three years she worked in Washington, D.C., with Congressman John Phillips. The present office maintains an expert public stenographer and notary public.

In the same building Harry B. Cannon and Jesse E. Jacobsen have their law offices. Mr. Cannon is City Attorney at Coachella and Mr. Jacobsen holds the same office for the cities of Banning and Beaumont.

FAIRWAY PATTERN

Golf activity has moved into high gear now that the new course is in such excellent playing condition. The fairways are beautifully green and the putting surfaces have reached a degree of smoothness rather remarkable considering the short time since their construction and planting. Pro Bobby Pinnell reports an all time high in the number of members and visitors using the golf facilities. The regular Monday Ladies day session has witnessed a big growth in attendance and for March the girls are planning a series of fun contests starting off with a "Count Putts Only" affair for March 7, followed by an "Irish Horserace" tournament on March 14 in celebration of the impending St. Patrick's Day, a "Scotch Twosome" meeting on the 21st of the month and to close out the month a "Tombstone" event on the 28th.

Not to be outdone by the fair sex, the men divot diggers have organized a few little events of their own under the guidance of Tournament Chairman Cliff Ives. Each Saturday and Sunday during the month a sweepstakes tournament under the direction of Bob Pinnell will be held with golf merchandise prizes resulting from the entry fee money. During the course of these events handicaps will be set by Pinnell from the cards turned in and on March 26 and 27 a club Handicap Championship Tournament will take place complete with a Calcutta dinner on Friday night the 25th.

Club Closeups...

By "PRISCILLA"

Guests at Shadow Mountain Club's regular Thursday "Grab Bag" attraction were entertained on Feb. 17, by a roaring rendition of "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You." It must have been sung right, for no less an authority than the Honorable Governor of Texas himself, Allan Shivers, gave with the vocals. Cutting loose with him in this rendition were Monty Moncrief of Fort Worth, Texas, Richard Wagner from Palm Springs, and Randolph Scott, who by the way walked off (or shall we say sauntered off) with the most sparkling grab bag of the evening—a bottle of champagne.

The Club has again this year been following with interest the thrilling goings on in Indio in connection with the annual Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival. Being very fortunately within the "fallout" area of this gala celebration, Shadow Mountaineers are treated each year to some of the spectacular ceremonies such as the Arabian Nights Ball. And this year Ora Jared chaperoned Queen Scheherazade and her fourteen princesses for dinner on the Fair opening night, February 17. This was very apropos, since this year's Queen is Palm Desert's own Karen Morton . . . and like the Pied Piper, Commander Scott stopped in Saturday the 19th for lunch with 100 or so followers, all on their way to the fair. This yearly visit from Commander Scott has become a tradition.

Never was there a better example of what can be accomplished when a group of the ladies get together and all pull in the same direction than when the Palm Desert Women's Club staged their annual Fashion Show at the Club last week. It all started with a luncheon and there wasn't a ticket or a seat left. SMC is going to invest in an "SRO" sign.

The models in this show were members of the Women's Club and the clothes, of course, were Mrs. Belyea's from the Clotheshorse. She describes them well.

The new chapter of Pan Hellenic being formed in Palm Desert has held several meetings at Shadow Mountain Club and will continue to do so the second Thursday of each month. This is a luncheon meeting for the group which is made up of all interested college women.

Prominent in its organization in this area are Mrs. E. C. Ruge and Mrs. Robert Ellsworth who have succeeded in bringing together representatives of fifteen sororities and twenty-five colleges. Scholarship assistance offered by this group adds up to an extension program, and all local highschool seniors are to be notified of these opportunities. The next get-acquainted meeting will be held at the Club on March 10, 1955. All college women will be welcome. P.S. There are no dues!

The Arnold Andersons treated their daughter Karen to a Valentine party at the Club on Saturday the 12th . . . A dinner for sixty was held in the Manzanita Room Sunday the 20th by the Alpha Sigma Pis of Redlands U . . . Among many on the register from out-of-State this month have been the J. B. Bensons of Reno, Nevada, Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Jensen of Raymond, Washington, and Harry Reifel from Vancouver, British Columbia. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Blake of Pasadena spent some time at the Club with guests from Oregon, Will Hippien came up from San Diego, and the Ridder brothers, a name in the newspaper world, stopped in for Saturday dinner with other guests.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith of Los Angeles, currently showing their famous hackney ponies at the Indio Fair, paid us a visit. The Edward Sergeants have been host to Mrs. Sergeant's brother, Mr. J. L. Allabough, Mrs. Allabough, and daughter Karen for the past week. The Allaboughs reside in Van Nuys, and Mr. Allabough is with the Columbia Broadcasting Company.

Three birthdays were celebrated as one on Saturday the 12th when Mr. and Mrs. Ben W. Vallat, Jr., joined Abe Lincoln. Mr. Joe Hughes hosted the cocktail party, and joining in the celebration were Bebe Beschoff and Fred Siemen, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Coates, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Schilck, Mr. and Mrs. George Berke, and Mrs. Frank Fischer . . . All the way from Honolulu came the John S. Clarks to compare our desert sun with their tropic one.

FIDGETY FOURSOME—Pro Bobby Pinnell, Ned Blades, and Mon Walgren watch Duke Atterbury attempt to sink a five footer during play in the men's week-end sweepstakes tournament.

Referee Bill Claiborne with the finalists in January's Women's Club Tennis Tourney. Mrs. T. J. Teaze, left, emerged the winner over Lois MacClyment.

CLUB HOMESITES NOW AVAILABLE

In the center section of this issue a two page spread complete with the latest aerial photo proudly announces the sale of choice homesites within the club grounds.

But that's not all the story. As of press time twenty-nine of the lots had been sold. Such a terrific response within such a short period of time only serves to reemphasize and confirm our oft repeated contention that for view, location, climate, and convenience this property is unequaled anywhere in America today.

Just in case you haven't visited the club lately, make it a point on your next trip out to drive over the beautiful new roads in unit No. 1 and see if you don't agree with us. Every lot commands a breathtaking view of Mts. San Gorgonio and San Jacinto to the west and the Santa Rosas to the south. Then take a look at the club house and lake situated in the very center of things surrounded by a 130 foot band of green that marks the new golf course. We're sure you will share our pride and enthusiasm.

Maps and complete purchase information are available at the Shadow Mountain Park Properties office at Poolside.
